BIOGRAPHY

For over 20 years Simon has been working as a DoP / Lighting Cameraman & Camera Supervisor. He is highly versatile having worked worldwide on many diverse productions including filming in a Zero Gravity simulation, crossing oceans and deserts to large studio-based projects in the UK and abroad. Whether it's solo shoots, or multi camera projects Simon has the technical and creative skills to get the best out of each project to time and on budget.

Simon is equally at home working with a large team or left to his own resources. He fully understands the need to have excellent communication skills and has developed the ability to have a true empathy with the contributor and subject matter whatever the conditions.
